Description

Wayne Davis is the founding president of the Core Sound Decoy Carvers Guild and was the driving force in building the foundation for what is now the Decoy Carvers Guild, the Core Sound Decoy Festival and the Core Sound Waterfowl Museum & Heritage Center. Wayne's hard work and tireless efforts led a small group of carvers and volunteers to create one of the most authentic decoy gatherings on the East Coast. He, along with his best friend David Lawrence, took all they had learned from places like Chincoteague and Currituck, and brought it home to Harkers Island where their vision grew to a movement of preserving waterfowling traditions and Down East culture.
